Title: 1933: If You But Knew the Joy You'd Bring by Ellsworth Clark
Provenance:

Category: Document
Person: Dorothy Smith
Date: 05/23/1933

If you but knew the joy you'd bring

If you'd but walk up here,

And push the bell and make it ring

So I'd come out and find you dear.

You'd make the sunshine in the eve

And make my heart starting singing

Songs of love you can't conceive

Because you're not here ringing.

If I should see you now my dear

No matter what you're doin'

I'd clear the space in one quick jump

And kiss you quick, "no foolin".

Two days are years to me tonight

I'm lonely, sad and wonderin'

Can I last longer in this plight

Of lovin' you—you darlin'.

'Tis grand outside—

The soft wind wafts perfume of flowers

So sweet and fair,

It makes me feel I want you hours

To talk and to confide.
