Title: 1933-10-21-Pulling-Hard-Against-the-Stream Provenance:	Category: Document Person: Dorothy Smith Date:
Pulling Hard Against The Stream In this world I've gained my knowledge But for it have had to pay; Though I never went to college Yet I've heard that poets say Life is like a mighty river Rolling on from day to day Men are vessels launched upon it Sometimes wrecked and cast away So then do your best for one another Making life a pleasant dream Help a worn and wearied brother Pulling hard against the stream.	Fortune favors every scheme, Others, too, tho more deserving, Have to pull against the stream. If the wind is in your favor And you've weathered every squall, Think of those who luckless labor, Never have fair winds at all Working hard contended, willing Struggling thru life's ocean wide, Not a friend & not a shilling, Pulling hard against the tide.
Mary a bright, good hearted fellow, Mary a noble minded man, Finds himself in water shallow, Then assist him if you can	Don't give way to foolish sorrow, Let this keep you in good cheer, Brighter days may come tomorrow If you try & persevere,

Darkest nights will have a morning,

Tho the sky be overcast,

Longest lanes must have a turning

And the tide will turn at last.
